

Antiguan Cooperative Cannabis Initiative

Big news for NCM Biotech! Founder and CEO of NCM Biotech Frederick Ferri will be heading to Antigua to become the lead in the Antiguan Cooperative Cannabis Initiative. The A.C.C.I. is an all-encompassing entity allowing local farmers to acquire licenses to grow cannabis under a co-operative union that will contain its own extraction facility and laboratory.

NCM Biotech provides the facility where producing CBD/THC oil of international standards will supply huge revenue to the island as well as open doors for the future production of cannabis businesses and factories without having to export the oil at wholesale prices.

Cannabis is the fastest growing industry in the United States and NCM Biotech is one of the leaders in the industry in working with all natural medicines to treat numerous illnesses in humans.

NCM Biotech while working with some of the world's most renowned and prestigious universities has engineered a patent large-scale extraction method for top of the line cannabis products and are currently producing the highest quality CBD Oils on the market. NCM Biotech will be paramount in ensuring the success and quality of the product produced of this magnitude by controlling the world class extraction facility and laboratory.
